ALEXANDER COMMENTS ON ANNIVERSARY OF ROE VS. WADE

CONGRESSMAN TO CONTINUE FIGHTING FOR RIGHTS OF THE UNBORN

Washington, D.C. -- U.S. Rep. Rodney Alexander, R-Quitman, issued the following statement today:

"Once again, it hurt me deeply to be reminded that this week (Jan. 22nd) marks the anniversary of Roe vs. Wade, which is the legal precedent that allows the practice of abortion in America today. This law, however, has clearly taken away the rights of the unborn and has unfairly allowed others to decide the fate of another human. I'm pro-life and make no apologies for standing up for the rights of the unborn. Since I was elected to congress in 2002, I've fought tirelessly for the rights of the unborn. I hope and pray that one day--in the near future-- we can celebrate the end of Roe vs. Wade and stop, as a nation, allowing others to determine the fate of the unborn."
